VILLA BANDITS NOW LOOTING THE CITY

LOSS OF CITY ATTRIBUTED TO LACK OF AMMUNITION FOR
FORCES OF GENERAL CARRANZA—VILLA LOOTING CITY.

(The Associated Press.)
JUAREZ, Mex., Dec. 2.—Carranza forces are expected today to begin a general attack in an effort to retake Chihuahua City, according to reliable information received here. The attack may have started already.

The capture of the city by Villa and his band is attributed to a lack of ammunition for the Carranza troops.

Villa bandits were reported to have loaded two trains with loot from the stores and residences of Chihuahua City and following these trains west on the Mexican Northwestern railroad, according to a message received at military headquarters from General Carranza's scouts at Saus.

Carranza's cavalry column was at Saus, the first station south of the state capital, the report said. The scouts obtained their information from refugees reaching Cullity and Saus from Chihuahua City.

Gen. Trevino was said by Gen. Carranza to have been in Horcasitas today awaiting the arrival of Gen. Carranza's forces from the south of Chihuahua City. Carranza is expected to arrive here today.

Villa warned residents of the city against hiding any foreigners in their homes and declared he intended to kill them all. The Chinese added Villa also said he intended to connate all foreign property.

The Chinese explained that he did not hear Villa's speech but was told about it by a Mexican woman.

Before he could leave the house a detachment of Villa soldiers, the Chinese said, broke down the door but he escaped to Nombro De Dios near Chihuahua. He said he did not see any American, French, German or British refugees at Saus.

He confirmed the killing of many Chinese residents of Chihuahua City.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Florida East Coast Railway held at 26 Broadway on November 28th, Mrs. Mary Lily Flagler Bingham was elected vice-president of the Florida East Coast Railway company. Official announcement of the appointment is to be made immediately.

Juarez across to the American side. The wagons were sealed by United States customs officers and placed under bond.

Juarez is a military garrison today.

From a military standpoint, possession of Juarez and Chihuahua might lead to possession of Monterey, Saltillo, Durango and practically military control of the east portion of northern Mexico.

The most potent element with which Villa has to reckon in any such movement is the American punitive expedition in Mexico, spread out behind him and fully equipped for an emergency. Officials have not the slightest fear for the ability of Major Gen. Pershing to protect himself against any force that might be brought against him. They are more interested in what would be the attitude of the United States government should Villa, for whose capture the expedition was sent into Mexico, get between Gen. Pershing's force and the border line.

CARRANZA ADVISES REFORM IN MEXICO

QUERETARO, Dec. 2.—General Carranza in a speech to the Mexican Constitutional convention in session here last night recommended the following for insertion in the constitution: "Direct presidential elections; abolishment of the office of vice-president; the establishment of minimum wages and maximum hours for labor; establishment of judiciary independent of the governors of the states."

Truce Puts End to Reign of Terror in Grecian Capital

LONDON, Dec. 2.—A truce has been arranged in Athens after a day of terror in which the Sonists fought the Royalists and Greek troops fired upon the Entente forces which had been landed, according to the report of Admiral DuFournet.

To maintain order King Constantine has finally withdrawn. The disturbance began as soon as the Allied troops landed. The Greek troops fired upon the Entente forces and a pitched battle commenced between the Venizelists and Royalists in the stadium.

A news dispatch says the total casualties are reported to be more than 200.

Greek King Agrees to Demands.
ATHENS, Dec. 2.—The Greek king has agreed to give up the artillery demanded by the Entente allies and the Allied troops are being withdrawn from Piraeus, 300 still being on guard at the Zappelon.

An Entente diplomat informed the Associated Press correspondent that it was concluded to withdraw the troops after King Constantine had agreed to surrender six batteries of mounted artillery.

The French legation was fired upon during the crisis. The Greek military authorities asserted, however, that the rowdies did the firing.

The secretary of the British legation was arrested in the street by a Greek patrol but was later released at the police station.

16 DIE AS RESULT OF FOOTBALL IN 1916

(The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—There were 16 deaths, including one in the south, from football during 1916, according to figures compiled by the Associated Press. The number of deaths last year as a result of football were 16; in 1914 the number was 15. During the present year one victim was a college player and the others were mostly members of high schools, semi-professional and "prairie" eleven. College officials declare there was no death where a physical examination was required as a requisite to playing.

LONDON, Eng., Dec. 2.—Foodstuffs amounting to 2,300,000 tons and valued at $227,500,000 have been sent to Belgium and Northern France since the outbreak of the war by the Commission for Relief in Belgium, says a report just issued here. Besides foodstuffs the commission has shipped in this war zone something like 5,000,000 articles of clothing.

Allied government subsidies for the relief of people in these stricken districts have amounted to $183,000,000. Public subscriptions, in kind and in money, and other private monies, amounted to approximately $39,000,000, of which the United States gave about 35 per cent, and the British Empire nearly all the rest.

The population confined to this territory as a result of the war, all of whom received bread from the commission, numbers, according to the report, 9,500,000.

RUSSIANS TRYING TO 'CUT OFF INVADERS'

FORCE THE EVACUATION OF BUCHAREST—TEUTONIC CAVALRY
DEFEAT RUSSIANS.

(The Associated Press.)

Indications today pointed to the probability that two great flanking movements are in progress on the Rumanian front. The Russians are apparently making and in the hope of saving the Rumanian armies and possibly Bucharest. The Teutons are making the other to force the evacuation of Bucharest and cut off the defenders.

The Russians are attacking fiercely on a front of approximately 250 miles along the Moldavian and Bukovina borders. It is declared that the Russians have already had success sufficient to lead to the belief that the supply lines of the German invaders from the north may be menaced.

Berlin declares that the Russians and Rumanians have had no success, along the Moldavian and Bukovina fronts. It says that the Rumanians are threatened from the southeast by Mackensen's forces, which control virtually the entire Danube as far as Tchernavoda. The Rumanians are likely to attempt to throw their forces across the river further east to outflank the invaders. Each line is now occupied by the retiring Rumanians.

Berlin announces that the Teutonic cavalry is advancing from Compting and defeated the Rumanians in a pitched battle and broke through their lines. More than 16,000 Rumanians have been captured by the Teutons, who have already reached the Argoch river.

Berlin says that the Russians attempted to advance near Smergen and Pinsk on the Russian front, but without success.

The German artillery was active north of Ypres and near Gueudecourt on the France-Belgian front last night, London announces. The other fronts were apparently quiet.

A Spanish subject who reached the border today told of the fighting along Zarco avenue which was said to have been the fiercest of any in the zone of battle. He said the bandits charged and counter-charged the government positions, finally capturing the Guadalupe church and the breastworks at Guadalupe bridge. Then they burned the parish house and moved into the heart of the city, he said.

In anticipation of bandit attacks the Carranza government today had a large amount of army supplies, food and forage shipped in wagons from

BUILDING BRIEFS

L. Z. Burdick's finishing carpenters have nearly completed the work on the new William Morris bungalow on Loomis avenue. This cottage was commenced in the late summer months.

The Concrete Roofing Tile company keeps steadily at the manufacture of their roofing materials at their yard in the rear of the Daytona Sheet Metal Works shop on the corner of Magnolia avenue and Baker street.

The Cartin Roofing company has recently obtained the contract for the roof of the new Deland school building. This new building at the county seat is about the same size as the new Seabreeze school. Work will be started on the roof probably in February.

The Cartin Roofing company has just finished the roof of the new home of the Daytona Industrial School for Negro Girls, on Second avenue. This roof is made of Cartin specification roofing, which is a heavy asphalt paper with a rolled top coating of coquina shell.

Improvements are being made to the building on North Beach street owned by B. Foster and occupied by Miss Russell's store and the Waldorf Men's shop. Among other improvements the front is being extended to the sidewalk line so as to conform to the other buildings in the same block. The work is being done under the direction of Jacob Espedahl.

Fred Schaff, of Kingston, O., who has a home on Duke street, Seabreeze, arrived about ten days ago and is again employed by the Daytona Sheet Metal Works. He is engaged in putting on the tile overhang roof of the new Seabreeze school building on the corner of Earl street and Grandview avenue.

Fuquay & Gheen are now at work installing the new $3,500 pipe organ in the Daytona Beach Methodist church on the corner of Seabreeze avenue and Peninsula drive. Up until Saturday the workmen were engaged in making necessary alterations in the choir loft and south side of the building for the installation of the new organ. An extra number of men has been engaged for the labor of actual installation as the work is heavy and must be very carefully done. This work is done under the direction of Mr. Showacre, who arrived a few days ago to superintend the job for the Estey Organ company, of Brattleboro, Vt., the company from which the organ was purchased. The new organ is one of the latest models and is made to withstand a salt climate like that of the beach. Fuquay & Gheen hope to have everything in readiness for a concert to be held on Sunday, the 10th.

NEW FLAG IS GIVEN TO CITY OF DAYTONA

The new flag which was seen flying Thanksgiving morning from the Casino Burgoyne flag pole was presented to the city by James W. Shields, a winter resident of Daytona who has a fine residence on Volusia avenue. The flag is like the one which Mr. Shields gave to the city two years ago, and which has been used to the present. He has a similar flag which he will use at his own Volusia avenue property.

Prize Package of Age.

Statistics have been furnished to prove that the college girl spends 87 per cent of her money upon necessities as against 8 per cent for pleasures and luxuries. With the face and figure of a Venus and the thrift and common sense of a Griselda, the college girl of the present is going to be the prize package of the age.

Missed Both Ways.

What is the difference between a man who has seen Niagara, a man who has not seen Niagara and a ham sandwich? One has seen the mist, the other has missed the scene. Do you want to know where the ham sandwich comes in? Well, that's where you bite.

Used-to Places.

One day my small niece was told to put a piece of paper in the scrap basket. She went to the wrong corner of the room and returned, saying: "Oh, silly me, I put it where the scrap basket used to be. I always go to used-to places."—Exchange.

"LIFE'S SHADOWS" WILL BE AT CRYSTAL SATURDAY

"Life's Shadows" is the first great photodrama presenting the gifted author-actor, William Nigh, since "His Great Triumph, or Notorious Gallagher." In this picture Mr. Nigh has as his co-star the popular screen artist, Irene Howley, last seen sharing stellar honors with Ralph Herz in "The Purple Lady."

This interesting film will be shown at the Crystal theatre tonight. "Life's Shadows" is a five-act feature produced by Columbia Pictures Corporation for the Metro program. It was written and directed by Mr. Nigh, himself, who has originated many innovations now in general use throughout the realm of motion pictures. There is only one word which adequately describes this author-actor-director, and that is "genius." Miss Howley's superb dramatic powers and classic beauty are so well known to lovers of the silent art, as to need no further introduction.

In "Life's Shadows," a new personality is introduced to the screen. Mr. Nigh has made a rare "find" in the person of Kathleen Allaire, a California beauty just sixteen years old. Little Miss Allaire is destined to become an indispensable contributor to the happiness of motion picture patrons, for she has remarkable ability in depicting emotion, added to winsomeness and a real individuality. Robert Elliott, who has been seen in many Metro wonder-plays, Roy Claire, who was the "Wild Willie" of "A Child of Destiny," and Harry Linson, who appears with Viola Dana in "The Light of Happiness," are favorite members of the cast.

"Life's Shadows" is replete with human interest. The play represents the life of a small city, Purity by name. James Durkel is mayor, but he is unfaithful to his trust, and as election-time draws near, several candidates are brought forward for the office.

Gossip and dissensions mar the life of Purity. The only man who seems to have clear vision, combined with sympathy and understanding for all, is Lawyer Bradley, who is despised because he is a little too fond of strong drink. But even with this handicap he revolutionizes matters in the community, bringing about a better condition of affairs and in the end overcomes his only weakness, finding his greatest happiness in the society of a small boy with whom he roams about the woods and goes fishing.

Madge Morrow is the heroine of "Life's Shadows," and the story follows the attempt of the unknown girl to gain a footing among the gossiping townspeople of Purity. First fancying herself in love with Chester Thorndyke, the worthless son of a wealthy family, she finds her happiness in the keeping of his brother Rodney, a manly character whose chances of winning the mayoralty are excellent, but who decides to take Madge and his little sister and leave the town of Purity to its own self-righteousness.

"Life's Shadows" is compelling in its interest, showing life not as it should be, but as it is.

St. George Temple, an aristocratic old gentleman, lives in his fine old home in Kennedy Square, and is liked by everyone. Harry Rutter tells him of his love affair and his trouble, and the old gentleman acts as peacemaker between Rutter and Kate, daughter of Hon. Douglas Seymour. It proves a thankless job, and after a fight and a duel in the Rutter home, between Harry and a rival suitor, Harry is put out of the house by his father and comes to live with St. George. Things go from bad to worse when St. George loses his money and Harry goes away to South America. After making a fortune from a ruby mine, the young man returns to find the old gentleman living in poverty, and makes full restitution. This time St. George acts the part of peacemaker successfully and Kate and Harry are married.

"AN ENEMY TO THE KING" CRYSTAL THEATRE MONDAY

The sketch follows: "When I Strike Once." That was the signal for death. Beautiful Julie de Varion sent out to ensnare the Huguenot Captain to assure the freeing of her father, is saved from an attack by "The Enemy to the King." Softly colored by the romantic spectacular of yesteryears, fairly flowering with sweet pathos, plot and magnificence, E. H. Sothern's superb portrayal, will live forever, because his life's ambition has been realized in transmitting this play to posterity forever.

Doctoring Mania.

Some women are so thoroughly inoculated with the doctoring mania that when baby is entirely well and the old man's gripe has disappeared, she will imagine the old cow is sick and nearly dose her to death.

Mrs. W. C. Smith entertained a party of friends at her home in the McCrory block Friday evening. The evening was pleasantly spent in card-playing and toward its close, light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Henrietta Holmes and daughter, Miss Lillian Holmes, of Kirksville, Mo., and Dr. Frances Harris, of Carthage, Mo., are located for the season with Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Gove at the corner of Ridgewood and Volusia avenues.

E. G. LONGE HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

OWNER OF PROPERTY ALONE AT THE TIME AND BUT LITTLE WAS SAVED FROM BURNING BUILDING.

The two-story frame dwelling house, owned and occupied by E. G. Longe and located at Rose bay, was totally destroyed by fire at about 5:30 o'clock Friday evening. Mr. Longe was alone at the time, the members of his family being in this city. When he discovered the fire, which originated in the kitchen at the rear of the building, it was already beyond control. Mr. Longe called for help and some of his neighbors and a party of colored men went to his assistance, but the fire had gained such headway that little could be saved from the flames. By keeping water on the garage this and two automobiles escaped destruction. The loss is partly covered by insurance placed through the Bingham & Thompson agency of this city. Information of the burning of the house was first brought to Daytona by Tom Ferguson, who passed the place with an automobile party. He came here and got Will Snow, a nephew of Mr. Longe and they returned together to Rose bay. Mr. Longe was in the city this morning on business relating to his insurance.

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS WITH TRIP ON THE TOMOKA RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wines, Jr., of 13 Rowland place, entertained a party of friends very pleasantly Friday on the Home Run, making the trip up the Tomoka river. Their guests included Mrs. Wm. C. Atwater, of 525 Park avenue, New York City, Mrs. Atwater's sister, Mrs. Dickinson, Miss Emma Wilson, of Easton, Penn., Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mills and son, Herbert Mills, of Daytona. Luncheon was served in the cozy cabin of the Home Run and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Six alligators were seen on the banks of the stream during the trip. This was the first time Mrs. Atwater or Mrs. Dickinson had seen the Tomoka river and they were charmed with the beauty of the scenery. All agree that it was a perfect day.

President F. M. Rowe, of the Daytona Advertisers club, was about the first business man hit by an ink stand promoter this morning. Mr. Rowe told him the Advertisers club was formed in Daytona just to put "kibosh" on such schemes to extract money from merchants, and that members of the Advertisers club refrain from contributing for the vacations of advertisers who make a practice of coming to Florida each winter at the expense of the business men of the state. Members of the Advertisers club patronage only such plans of advertising as are passed upon by the Merchants Protective committee, and the ink stand promoter has not even submitted his proposition. It is hardly possible that enough business men will fall for the ink stand scheme in Daytona to make the promoter's visit profitable.

STRIVING FOR BETTER MOTOR DIRECTIONS

The following letter, written by Mrs. M. L. Stanley, of Winthrop, Me., and this city, appeared in the American Motorist, for November, 1916:

"Editor American Motorist:

"On page 42 in the American Motorist, August number, there is an article, or rather letter, from W. O. Platt, entitled 'Tell the Road Traveler the Name of Your Town,' which interested me very much.

"We motored from our winter home in Florida to our summer home in Maine and we found the same trouble that Mr. Platt has had.

"Now, another thing. In all motor guide books they tell us about crossing certain rivers, etc., but none of these waterways are marked; neither any places where good drinking water can be obtained. It seems to me that all tourists in all states would be interested if they could find these things done in other states."

"MRS. M. L. STANLEY,"
Winthrop, Me.

Along this same line, Mrs. Stanley, who is state chairman of waterways of the Florida Federation of Women's clubs and a member of the Florida Drainage association, had issued from Winthrop, Maine, July 5th, 1916, the following suggestion to the club members of the state of Florida:

"It has been suggested to your chairman of waterways that all rivers, streams, lakes and creeks; in fact all waterways crossed by bridges on the main highways be marked with their names; also that all places where good drinking water can be procured, by travelers, be also marked.

"This seems a splendid suggestion, and one to be carried out if possible; and all things are possible to the real club woman, and we women of Florida are 'real club women,' and progressive in every way. Let us make ourselves into a committee of one, and see if we cannot get our county commissioners to mark these waterways for us.

"Your chairman left Florida the last of April for the north to attend the General Federation of Women's clubs in New York; then motored through to Maine, making a distance of over seventeen hundred miles. If we had found waterways marked with their names, it would have solved many problems for us. In the 'Blue Book' we found 'Cross Potomac Creek,' and many of the same nature. It is the desire of every Floridian to make the way to our beautiful state as easy as possible for the tourist, and this is one of the ways. We want to work in conjunction with the Highway Commission of the state and the Conservation Department of the Federation.

"If we cannot get our county commissioners to place these signs for us, why cannot each club put up two or three of them during the summer? I fully realize that the club season has closed, but can we not talk this matter over, and see what can be done before the tourist season begins next fall?"

In connection with this movement inaugurated by Mrs. Stanley the B. F. Goodrich company of Akron, Ohio, has written her in support of her suggestion and stating that at the first opportunity they will make some effort to mark the waterways as well as the main highways.

TO GOVERNMENT

SPECIAL ADMISSION PAPERS CAUSED HALF A MILLION MARKS TO BE TURNED IN TO GOVERNMENT.

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—With the close of the racing season nearly everywhere in Germany it has been found that the gold pieces which were turned in at the "gates" during the summer, in return for reduced prices of admission, total about half a million marks.

Whereas the majority of the press at first greeted this news as "altogether satisfactory," a portion of the papers, after thinking it over, have decided that it is "altogether disgraceful" to discover that so large a number of people obviously had unpatriotically obtained from turning in their gold until induced to do so in order to buy amusement a little more cheaply.

Part of the press is thoroughly indignant that in these days of appeals from all sources to turn in gold, in these days of collecting bureaus for old gold and ornaments, there should still be so many persons in the empire "who will not be moved by any lessons to help bring our financial

GERMAN-AMERICAN SOCIETY HELD PLEASANT CELEBRATION

The members of the German-American society and their families and friends enjoyed a delightful celebration of Thanksgiving in the club room in the Arcade building Thursday evening. Plates were laid for 80 or more and after doing justice to an appetizing dinner, instrumental music, singing and dancing were enjoyed. The club rooms have recently been renovated and refitted and were beautifully decorated for the Thanksgiving celebration.

The shower of Tuesday afternoon gave a precipitation of .06 of an inch, according to J. G. Brown.

During the Winter Season the Club will remain open from 10:00 a. m., to 12:00 midnight.

A competent Chef will be on duty and special attention is given to Special Dinners to members and their non-resident guests.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE ON SEASIDE INN

POPULAR HOSTELRY AT DAYTONA BEACH HAS BEEN ENTIRELY RENOVATED AND RE-DECORATED FOR COMING SEASON.

Painters, carpenters and interior decorators have been at work for the whole of the past month in making the Seaside Inn on the corner of Seabreeze avenue and Atlantic and Ocean avenues, a delightful modern hotel. J. P. Glenn, owner and manager, arrived about six weeks ago from a summer at his hotel, Les Cheneaux club, at Les Cheneaux, Mich., in order to oversee the improvements and make everything ready for the winter season which he believes will be a big one.

The exterior of the building, which has been the principal hotel of Daytona Beach, summer and winter for more than ten years, has received several coats of gray paint of its former color. The broad flight of steps leading up to the main south entrance, has been rebuilt, all veranda floors have been repainted, repairs on the roof have been made, the fire escapes have been reinforced as well as many other minor repairs.

The greater part of the work has, however, been done on the inside of the building. The main lobby has been enlarged by the building of a pleasant sun parlor on the southeast corner of the room and by doing away with a small store room near the desk. All of the walls and the supporting posts of the beamed ceiling have been painted a lighter color, the woodwork and beams being enameled white. This change has greatly improved the lobby, making it of much more cheerful aspect than before.

The dining room has been renovated in the same way and the large east windows allow plenty of light reflection and gives a splendid view out over the ocean.

Every room in the house has been retinted and all wood work enameled. Many of them have new furniture and all are kalsomined or painted delicate shades of various colors, all restful to the eye. Every room is comfortable and well-lighted and many have private baths.

The small grounds and ocean front parage have been cleaned and attractively planted with shrubs and plants. In the rear of the hotel things have been thoroughly cleaned so that nothing is unsightly from the street.

Many thousands of dollars have been spent in these changes for the better and while the Seaside Inn has always been a popular hostelry, it is probable that the management will be somewhat taxed to make arrangements and care for the crowds of the coming season. Already, the largest number of early season guests, which has ever been here, enjoys the pleasant service. A fine large crowd was in attendance at the Thanksgiving dinner.

As usual Owner J. P. Glenn will manage the hotel during the coming winter. Lawrence Ginochio, who spent last season here, will again act as clerk.

TURNBULL CASTLE FORMALLY OPENED

IS HEADQUARTERS OF THE TURNBULL HUNTING AND FISHING ASSOCIATION AND CONDUCTED BY CHARLES KOST.

The official opening of the headquarters of the Turnbull Hunting and Fishing association was celebrated Thanksgiving day by a reception tendered to the members and their friends by M'ne Host Chas. Kost and his estimable wife. The ceremonies of the opening were preceded by a collation served in the dining hall with about 40 guests present and Chas. F. Burghman as toastmaster, who explained the objects of the association.

Among the speakers of the evening were Col. C. M. Bingham, Commissioner Jerome D. Maley, Collector D. Perkins Smith, Ernest Kreitzberg and these and others expressed themselves as highly pleased that a meeting place had been provided for the pleasant social intercourse of the citizens of the several cities on the Halifax river and New Smyrna with their near neighboring communities. This would make for her the furthering of good fellowship and progressive development of the entire district and would make for amusement and recreation for all interested in outdoor sport.

Turnbull Castle was built by Chas. Kost, well known to everyone in Daytona and the surrounding neighborhood. In going to New Smyrna last Spring on business Mr. Kost conceived the idea that the point of land situated where the last bridge over Turnbull Bay turns south along the public roadway toward New Smyrna, would be a capital place to establish a hunting and fishing camp. He secured five acres of the choicest land for this purpose and during the summer built a small hotel there.

For years the several bridges over Turnbull Bay have been the Mecca of enthusiastic fisher folk of every age and sex. Boat loads and auto parties with bulging baskets of edibles camped near these bridges and brought home with them loads of the finny tribes of the deep, for no finer fishing grounds can be found than those of Turnbull Bay with its many islands, its broad expanse and its swift currents crowding in through the ocean inlets nearby. But no shelter could be found in case of stormy weather and very little friendly shade during the hot days of the summer.

Mr. Kost was aware of all this from personal experience and he reckoned too, that whosoever would be the first to respond to the call for a demand of a comfortable place here needed would find a good paying patronage.

His little hotel with its spacious dining room, comfortable reception room and well screened porches will draw goodly crowds from among the tourists as well as from among the permanent dwellers along the Halifax and upper Indian rivers. He named his hotel Turnbull Castle in memory of the historic old castle which over-crowned the great shell mound two miles north of New Smyrna, and which is now but a memory—both castle and mound having disappeared.

The Turnbull Bay Hunting and Fishing association has established here its headquarters with its membership composed of the leading citizens of the eight towns and cities clustered about the waters which make the Halifax and Indian river. Among those present at the opening ceremonies were the following:

OWNER OF BEACH HOME

SOON LEAVES FOR SOUTH

"R. H. Hilton, the genial proprietor of the Hill Country house at Garrison-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.," says the Peckskill Union, "has had his building painted white. It is quite a striking contrast to the former color and shows the building up in very nice style. The roadways have all been macadamized and it is safe to say that when the favorite hotel opens up in the spring it will be more popular than ever."

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton and family will be closing their river home after Dec. 1, and leave for their winter home, the Garrison, formerly the old Blodgett house at Daytona Beach, where they expect many enjoyable events, with their numerous Daytona Beach friends.

Save His Nerves.

To give the baby a quiet disposition, the first step is to keep him free from nerves. One mother accounted for her baby's peaceful frame of mind by saying that until he was three months old he was fidgety. That seems absurd, yet there is an element of truth in it. A baby is an excitable little being. It wants to play and be played with, and it needs real self-control on the part of the baby-holder to refrain from kissing and caressing and romping with the baby—ladies World.

PENINSULA SCHOOL NEWS PARAGRAPHS

The girls' team held practices whenever possible this week in preparation for another match game at Sanford next week.

Frank W. Smith, of Bellvue, O., again addressed the school Wednesday morning and presented a flag, which is to be a prize given monthly to the room of the school which gets the highest grade in punctuality and attendance. Mr. Smith is 73 years of age but thoroughly enjoys being with the school children.

Lester Hall, the manual training teacher and basket ball coach, gave a very interesting talk at the meeting of the Parliamentary club last Wednesday afternoon, on the conditions of life in the national guard. Mr. Hall has recently returned from the Mexican border and Texas and gave a good description of the everyday life of one of Uncle Sam's soldiers.

The basket ball boys left this morning at 7:30 in two Fords for Palatka where they are to play a match game with Palatka high school tonight. They have been spending as much time as possible during last two weeks on their signal and field play work and are confident of a victory for Seabreeze. The boys went in the autos of R. E. Niven and Prof. H. E. Wakefield, and will return to their homes here Sunday.

At a meeting of the teachers and principal of the Daytona Beach-Seabreeze public school, Tuesday afternoon it was unanimously decided to have an unbroken vacation of three days on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the present week, and to make up the time missed on Friday at the close of the school. Many of the teachers and several of the pupils wish to visit their homes and friends outside of the city and would have been unable to do so if they had to return to school on Friday.

The girls' basket ball team went up to Palatka last Saturday to play the girls' team of that city. The game was the first match team ever played by the local team and resulted in a defeat for Seabreeze. The peninsula girls thoroughly enjoyed the trip, however, and are very glad that they went. The trip was made by train each way and they returned on the midnight train to their homes here. The young people of Palatka gave them a very pleasant time as visitors to their city.

NEARLY 250 DIFFERENT KINDS OF PLANT LIFE TO BE FOUND IN THE ROYAL PALM STATE PARK

Florida's state park, which was dedicated at Miami last week, under the auspices of the Florida Federation of Women's clubs, has the distinction of containing the largest collection of palms (growing wild) in the state, and therefore in the United States, says the Miami Metropolis. Besides its royal palm trees, for which it is named, the park contains 241 distinct kinds of plant life. Including the hammock and the endowment lands the park contains 1,930 acres and is exempt from taxation.

The story of how the park came about was told by J. E. Ingraham of St. Augustine, a speaker at the dedication exercises. The story runs like this: About six years ago H. M. Flagler sent engineers over the land south of Miami to see if it would support a railroad and F. E. Morse, W. J. Krome and J. E. Ingraham made the trip, going as far south of Long Key. Mr. Ingraham sighted the palm trees about a mile to the north and was informed that Paradise Key was the name of the island. He became interested and in looking up the title discovered that the East Coast railway had a claim on the land. Later the land passed out of the hands of the company, but Mrs. Flagler became interested in the suggested project to make an ark of Paradise Key. It was then suggested that it would be work for the federated clubs of the state and Mrs. W. S. Jennings, state president, finally secured the passage of the bill which set aside the land as a state park.

The park has been set aside as a game preserve and a bird sanctuary and is under the care of a warden, Mr. Mosier.

Prof. Charles Simpson, an expert botanist, has identified the flora of the park and labeled the trees along the various trails. Prof. Simpson recently spoke against the project of establishing a botanical garden in the park. He said: "This is a natural park and should not be decorated but left as nature designed it. A scenic road—if it could be laid out by someone in sympathy with the park—would lend beauty and would be as a fireguard. Prof. Simpson called the park 'the meeting ground for plants of the temperate zone and the West Indies.'"

IMPORTED SPORT CLOTHES

Time was when sport toggery—from any source but England—was too striking and sensational to meet with American approval; but times have changed. America has grown up to the giddy French bathing suit which would have been considered shocking a few seasons ago but now disports itself on almost all the beaches from Maine to Florida. Gay colored French sport coats have become much the vogue in America also, and some of the English sport fashions are far too staid for taste on this side of the Atlantic, so riotous have sport colors become, so arresting sport fashions. Skirts, as well as coats, in rose hue, emerald, citron and mustard shades pose against out-of-door landscapes, and a new sport material called jersey, a soft, silken weave in the jersey effect but non-stretchable, comes in all the colors of the rainbow—and then some. Pontine is another new sport material, the waxed outer side like soft leather, the inner side silk or satin, to serve as a smart lining, or to be turned back on the waxed side in trimming effect. A skating suit just completed is of scarlet pontine with white silk reverse, turned over in cuffs, revers, pocket flaps and collar bands of ermine on the skirt are matched by a raking ermine cap with a crown of the scarlet pontine. Imagine this vivid little suit flashing over the ice against a snowy landscape!

A new French motor coat is of dull green pontine with a choker collar of leopard attached chest high on the double-breasted coat. The cap is of leopard also and the cuffs of leopard are eight inches deep. Warm enough for a cross-country spin on any sort of winter day is this attractive coat. Laovin is sending over autumn golf suits with skirts of lamb's wool and coats to match of velvet. An English sport suit in typical Norfolk cut with mannish lines is of Islay tweed in odd heather tones.

For day or evening, indoors, or out, velvet takes the lead among fabrics.

THE PRACTICAL DAY BED

More fashionable now than the chaise longue, which has been a fact in this country for several seasons—though a standby for years abroad—these graceful couches, low and long, with head and foot rest of equal height, are comfortable lounging places during the day and at night may be turned into perfectly practical beds. For the small apartment they are ideal. In an alcove or cosy corner the graceful day bed, piled with satin cushions, takes the place of costly davenport or the lowly "divan" which used to be the mainstay of every apartment house living room, and is the day bed, a revival of Empire the occasional week-end guest will, it is safe to say, be quite as comfortable on the upholstered day bed with its low head and footboard as upon the ancient divan from which the bedclothes always disentangled themselves during the night. Day beds come in all sorts of woods and even in metal, with low bent iron head and foot pieces. These are admirable in boys' rooms and look well covered with blankets in warm colors. At the opposite extreme are Second Empire day beds of ivory-tinted wood with cane panels by my lady's boudoir—pale blue or pink silk cushions and embroidered lingerie pillows for these.

Irony of Fate.
After years of hard and continuing work a man reaches the point where he can afford to own an automobile, only to find that in reaching it his health has been so impaired that his doctor insists he must walk.

Convention Defined.
Convention may be defined as a sort of precedent or custom which restrains a lady from cussing when she is as mad as a hornet, but which permits a man to swear like a trooper when he steps on a collar button.

To Press Rain-Spotted Clothes.
A garment spotted by the rain may be freshened by laying it over an ironing board and steaming it. This is done by placing a damp cloth over the article and ironing.—Woman's Home Companion.

CLOTHES & UNDERCLOTHES

You would be distressed if your doctor told you that you didn't know how to dress, but the chances are that he would be confining himself strictly to the truth if he said it.

Most women and some men do not garb themselves as they should, and that means, as they should for health conservation—of course, it has no reference to imitating Vogue's fashion or following the modiste's latest dreams.

In northern climates the coming of cold weather means that Ma gets out Pa's red flannel and Ike's mother, down on the lower East Side, "sews him up" in his winter garments next to the skin, and he won't be "unsewed" until the grass shows green in the park next spring. However necessary such winter garb may or may not be in the north, the semi-annual change has no place in Florida. The doctors say we here in Florida should wear the same weight of underclothing the year through, and when heavier garments are needed for protection against lower temperatures, they should be thicker outer coats and wraps. Those are conveniently put on and off to meet the more or less sudden changes of temperature and need not be worn when coming into a warm room from the chilly out-of-doors, which naturally is impossible if the increased thickness of clothing is next the skin.

There is also a danger from wearing heavier underclothing in a southern climate from the fact that such garments next the skin cause excessive activity of the skin and sweat glands, stimulating them unduly. Then when the individual stops the exertion or in any way becomes chilled, the blood which has been drawn to the body surface is driven abnormally to the internal organs. This has a tendency to reduce to a marked degree the vitality and resistance of the individual and the body is then less able to resist the attack of the many omnipresent disease germs. In other words, such conditions favor disease and the "catching" of bodily sickness.

Now, if heavier underclothing has no place in a Florida wardrobe, how about furs? Certainly, fur as a neck wrap, from a health viewpoint is objectionable in Florida, and quite as certainly it contributes nothing but risk to the woman who wears it in this climate, however much it may add to her satisfied feeling that with them she is strictly in accord with the fashions. Isn't it pitiful, when the "styles" in the north decree furs to be de rigueur, for woman's street costume, to see the Florida woman on a bright October day sailing down town with her fur "piece" drawn up to her ears, while the thermometer registers up among the high 80's. We've all seen it many a time, have seen it and smiled.

The neck is particularly susceptible to changes of temperatures, and care should be taken to protect it from these changes. In fact, some of the doctors urge that the best way to protect it is not to protect it at all, that the neck should not be wrapped, excepting under unusual conditions, as in riding and at times when the entire body is clothed more heavily.

But as no amount of reasoning is likely to prevail against the styles, even if they call for furs, and the consequent risking of health, it is well to call attention to recent discoveries of vaccines, which properly administered prohibit the catching of colds, influenza, the grip and like throat and lung diseases. They work on the same principle as vaccination against typhoid, by which injection of dead cultures of the disease germs prevents the existence of that disease in the protected individual in fact, renders him immune.

There is no guess work about it, no more than about the efficiency of smallpox vaccination, or of the anti-typhoid vaccine. These diseases can be, have been, and are being prevented every day by the employment of these vaccines, and there is no more necessity of colds than of these diseases. They are preventable. But after all, a sensible way to prevent colds is to dress sensibly. And remember there is much more danger in dressing too heavily, too warmly, than in not dressing warmly enough, even in a Florida winter.

When Moving Rugs.
In packing rugs, when moving, sprinkle with powdered alum and fold a few moth balls in when rolling them. Then, if not used, immediately, as is sometimes the case, there is no danger of their being destroyed by pests.

DAILY NEWS IS NOW A MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATION AND RECEIVES ITS SUPPLEMENT SERVICE.

The Daily News today greets its readers with a changed news service from last year. It was recently elected a member of the Associated Press and will hereafter be supplied with reports by that world-renowned association.

Malville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, recently delivered a lecture in Brooklyn, taking as his subject the great organization that he heads.

Beginning with the "good old days" when they circulated news via the coffee houses by letter and word of mouth, Mr. Stone told of the development of news gathering and distribution and the formation of the "A. P.," which today covers every corner of the earth. As the lecturer described it, "In every land, in every moment in the day and every night, there is a ceaseless vigil for news."

Mr. Stone told his hearers that the Associated Press is a news gatherer and distributor, free from any influence, impervious to "pressure" and subservient to no one, because it has no capital, issues, no stock, expects no profits and pays no dividends. The or-

The impartiality and accuracy of the news service are jealously guarded by the members," said Mr. Stone, "and among them are owners of newspapers of every known political faith and creed, printed in every language."

The news agencies that cover Great Britain, Germany, France, the Orient and, in fact, every corner of the old continent, are related to the Associated Press in the interchange of news. "And in every capital and large city of Europe and Asia and Africa we have our own men, trained in journalism here in America, for the foreigners are more or less under the influence of their governments. So we depend on the foreign men for such news as flood disasters, but for news which might concern some nation's pride, or where the possibilities of partisanship might enter, we trust only our own men."

In this country alone, Mr. Stone, pointed out, the Associated Press has in its own service for the collection and distribution of news 50,000 miles of telegraph wires. It is impossible, he said, to measure the cost of this great service or estimate the number of men and women connected with it, for it has available the staffs of all of the newspapers whose owners are subscribers.

"No man can tell how much it has cost to cover the present European war," continued Mr. Stone. "We have a vast unpurchasable service, opposed to the kind of news that is sold in Europe. Of course, the nations abroad would like us to be partial, but we have taught the belligerents that we hold no brief for anyone, and in consequence our men are respected wherever they go."

Mr. Stone paid a glowing tribute to the correspondents whose loyalty and devotion to duty had made the service possible. The war correspondents face danger every hour, so that the world may get the news of the great conflicts.

The speaker recited several interesting illustrations of how the organization spread certain pieces of news to all the world in a few minutes. By means of a telegraph wire "loop" some 24,000 miles in length, an operator-reporter seated at the press table in Ebbetts Field reported the World's Series games so that 500 newspaper offices in Halifax, Minneapolis, San Francisco, Galveston, Memphis and the intervening cities got the details of every play within a fraction of a second after the reporter had ticked it off. The game was described di-

When the Pope's death was announced, the news was telegraphed to the Associated Press of the A. P. A. less than five minutes the news was in New York and had been passed on to San Francisco. That accomplished, the story was called to London, which received from New York the first news of the Pope's death.

Fluff.

"Some men use big words," said Uncle Eben, "do same as a turkey spreads his tail feathers. Dey makes an elegant impression, but dey don't reppresent no real meat."

His Lone Opportunity.

With all the humorists at large in this country, a mere paragraph can never hope to be asked to go as a war correspondent, but some day they may exhaust all the other classes of writing folk and ask his opinion of Stubblefield's favorite pipe mixture.—Milwaukee Journal.

Substitute for Gold.

A substitute for gold is obtained by combining 94 parts of copper with six parts of antimony and adding a little magnesium carbonate to increase the weight. It is said that this alloy can be drawn, wrought and soldered very much like gold, and that it also receives and retains a golden polish. It is worth something like 25 cents a pound.

Charity.

What is wanted in society everywhere is the generous temper which seeks the good in human nature and refuses to think the worst. It is as easy to think well of people as ill; it is as easy to put a fair construction upon their motives as to impute evil. Among the various revivals of which society just now has sore need, let us not forget to pray for a revival of that true and heaven-born charity which rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in truth.

Value of Punctuality.

The Woman's World appeals to women generally to follow the example of business women and cultivate the virtue of punctuality. "One of the lessons," it says, "the business and working woman has learned is to be prompt. Managers of large establishments tell us that as a rule women are more punctual than men. There has been a notable improvement in the punctuality of the home, due mainly to the influence of modern business."

"Backing his automobile through the gap in the Spruce creek bridge Tuesday evening, C. Barrs, said to be a real estate man of Jacksonville, fell with the machine into the water and came near being drowned before he could be extricated from beneath the machine by the occupants of other machines who had witnessed the accident.

"The man was pinned beneath the top of the automobile under the water and the top had to be cut away to release him. He was unconscious when taken from the water, but the vigorous efforts to revive him, applied immediately, were effective and he was soon brought back to consciousness. Outside of a few scratches and bruises, he was not injured by the fall."

Thrift Propaganda.

The thrift propaganda undoubtedly will have the effect of making many people take greater care of their dimes and nickels. When the latter multiply into dollars the will power for saving dollars will have been formed in a way parallel to that by which physical strength came to the Greek hero who began by lifting a calf and lifted it every day till it became an ox.

To Clean Picture Frames.

To clean gilt picture frames the following will be found excellent: Put a gill of vinegar into a pint of soda water. Remove all dust from the frames; dip a large camel's hair brush into the mixture, squeeze it partly dry, then brush the gilt, doing a small portion at a time.

To Make a Successful Man. Some seem to feel that anything which will put dollars into the pocket is proof of success, but it is not. It may prove the power to get money, but, as another has said, "It takes something more than a mortar-board cap, a 'varsity' suit, a frat pin, a dog pipe, and 'rah-rah-rah' to make a successful man."
